WHAT HAPPENS WHEN CAPABILITY EXPANDS TOO FAST?

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT SOME COMMON TRAPS

Things are moving quickly, if we don't critically think, we risk falling into a cycle of false value generation

THE OUTPUT TRAP

LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT SOME COMMON TRAPS

Things are moving quickly, if we don't critically think, we risk falling into a cycle of false value generation

LENGTH NO LONGER INDICATES EFFORT

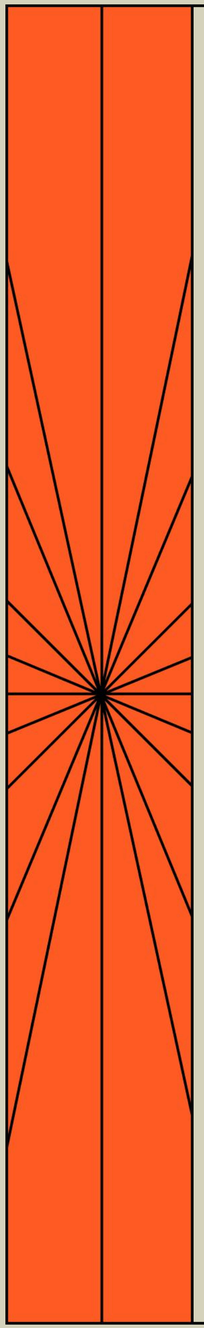

A long and organized message isn't a useful signal of how much attention to detail was utilized.

WHO'S SOLUTION IS BEST?

COORDINATION COSTS MORE TOO

As our ability to contribute across boundaries expands, our responsibility to communicate and coordinate doesn't automatically expand with it.

Things are moving quickly, if we don't critically think, we risk falling into a cycle of false value generation

TRAP → THE COORDINATION TRAP

HAVE YOU TRIED ASKING AI?

Everyone has probably seen this. You get an email, or slack message that looks like it came directly out of ChatGPT.

THE JUDGEMENT TRAP

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN CAPABILITY EXPANDS TOO FAST?

1 • The output trap

More output doesn't guarantee progress.

2 • The communication trap

Faster individuals don't guarantee faster organizations.

3 • The judgement trap

Greater capability doesn't guarantee better judgment.

CREATING VALUE IN A BROADENED ORGANIZATION

How do we actually apply all the new access to capabilities and successfully avoid all the traps?

BRING JUDGEMENT, NOT JUST OUTPUT

A FRAMEWORK FOR CREATING BROADER VALUE

Let’s see how to successfully avoid traps, and leverage our ever expanding capabilities.

JUST BECAUSE YOU CAN DO MORE DOESN'T MEAN YOU SHOULD.

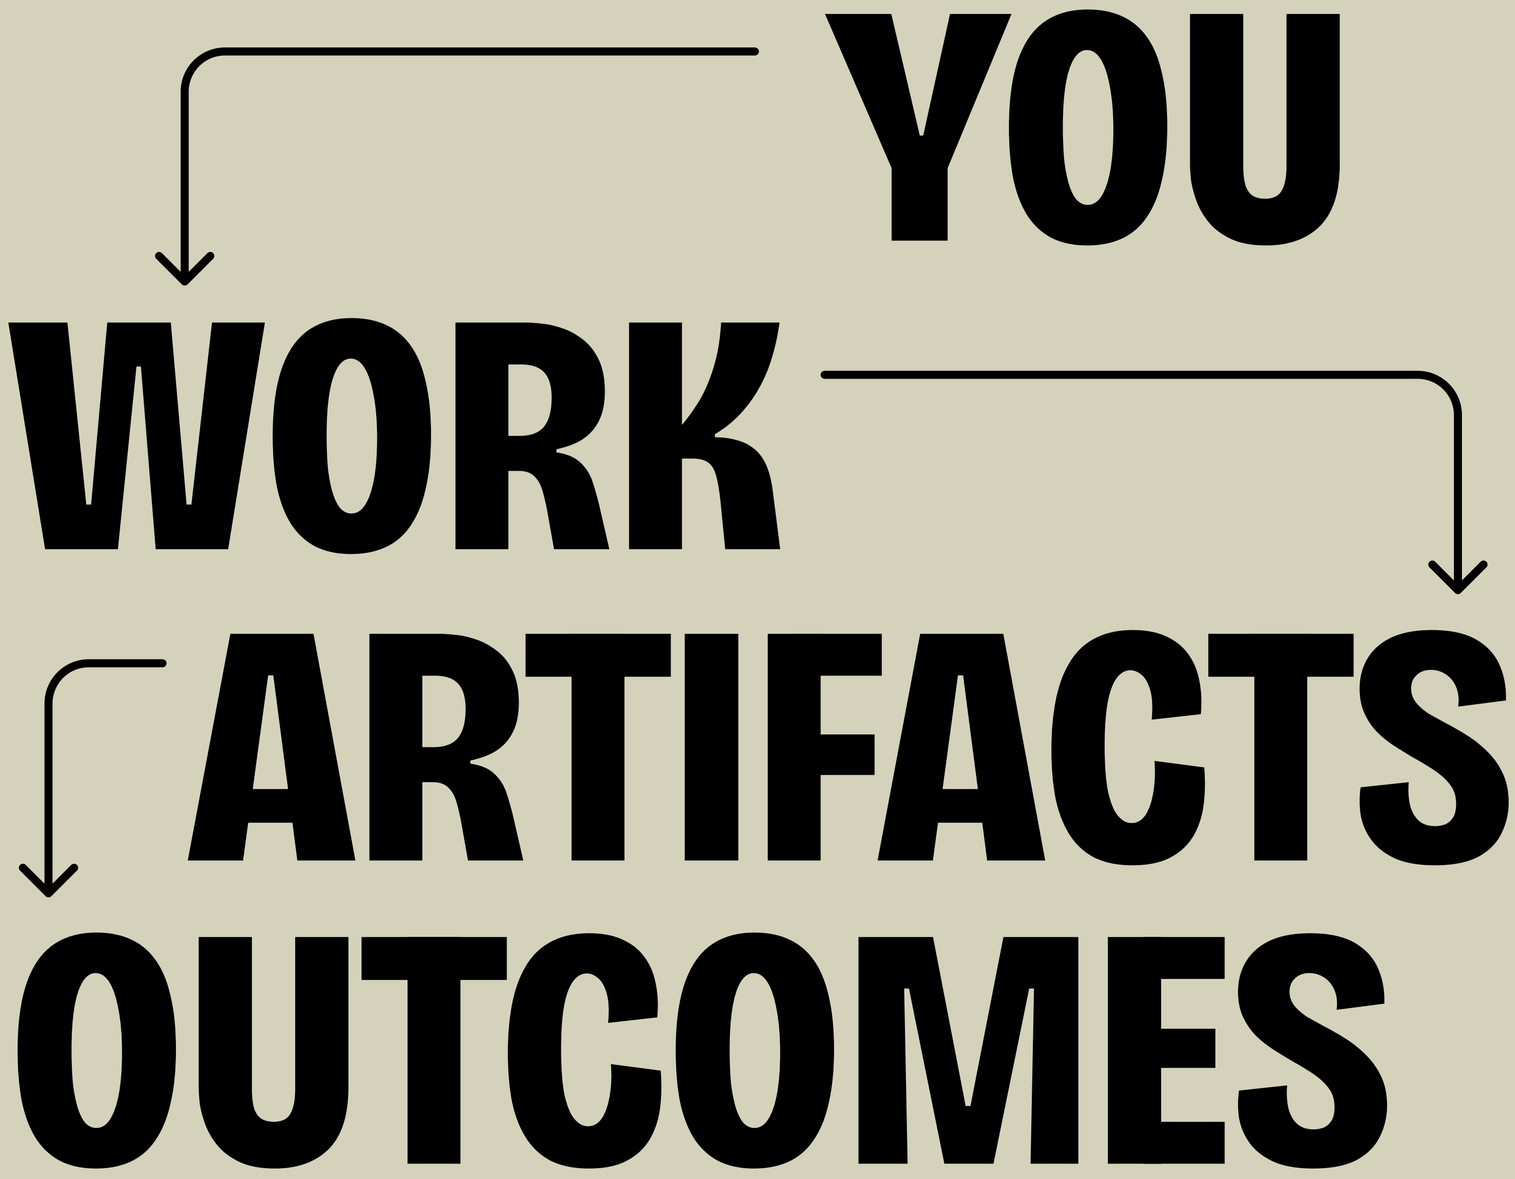

Your capabilities shouldn't determine the priorities. Stay focused on what needs to change for the customer, the business, or the organization.

IT ISN'T JUST ABOUT PRODUCTIVITY.

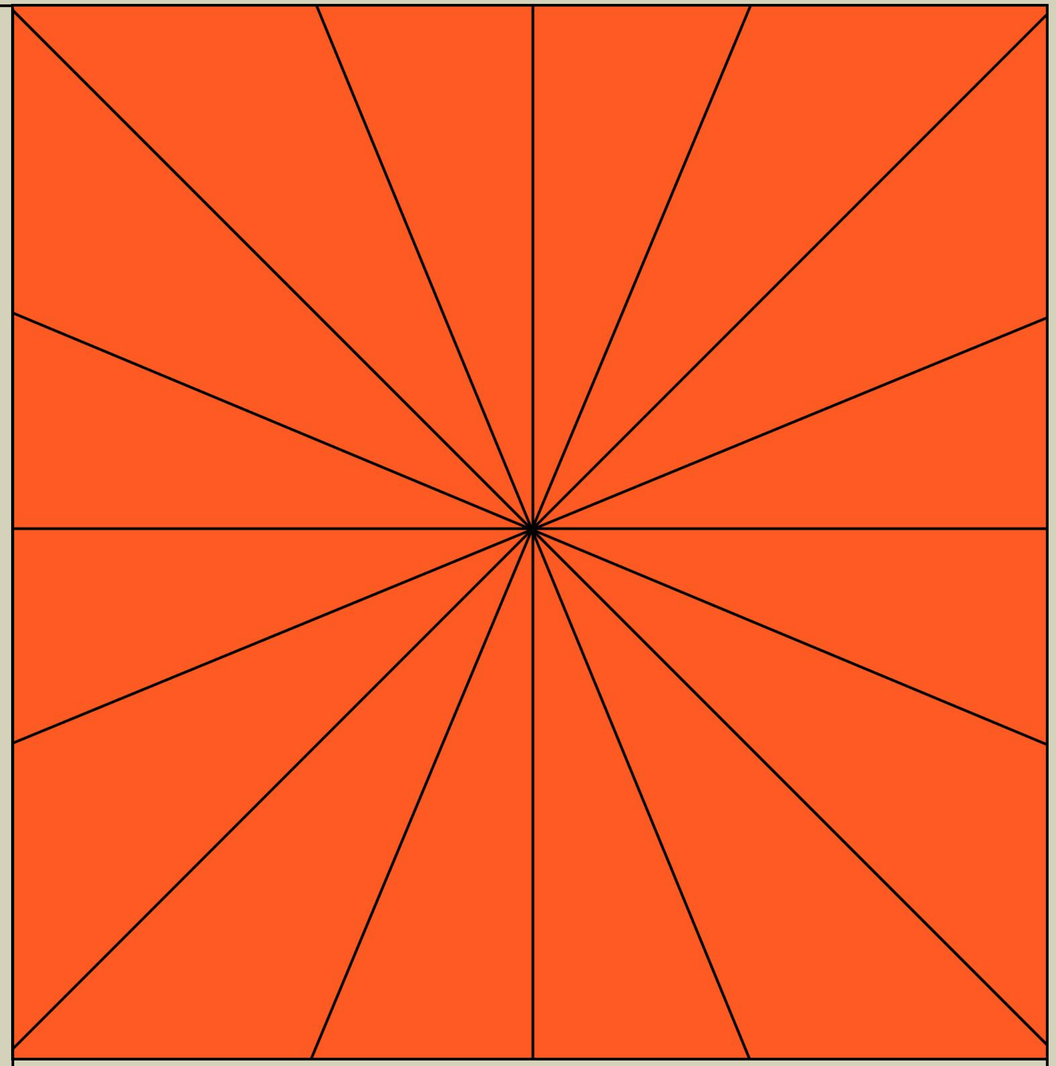

Forget artifacts, it's about understanding what matters, making tradeoffs, and coordinating with your team even more.

THE OPPORTUNITY ISN'T ABOUT OUR ABILITY TO JUST DO MORE.

IT'S TO DO MORE OF WHAT YOU ALREADY DO - IN MORE PLACES.
